

Please keep in place the FCC rule requiring number portability by November 24, 2002. Number portability will lead to improved service and quality for all wireless customers. If customers are free to switch carriers and take their phone number with them wireless carriers will be forced to provide better service. Number portability will also increase competition which will benefit the consumer through better quality at a lower price.